

A black and white photograph of a physical therapist, a woman with dark hair tied back, assisting an elderly female patient with short white hair and glasses. The therapist is leaning over the patient, who is seated and smiling. The therapist's hands are on the patient's shoulders, providing support or a massage. The background is a simple, light-colored wall.

INFINITY REHAB PATIENTS LOVE OUR THERAPY SERVICES

KATY OSMUNDSON is a physical therapist for Infinity Rehab at Home in our Salem, Oregon market. Here is what one patient had to say about her experience receiving therapy from Katy.

"I just graduated from my rehab time with Katy. Katy is very congenial and so easy to work with. I was impressed with the knowledge she has of the many ways of getting my shoulder back in shape. She knows what she is doing! I would recommend her to anyone needing therapy. It is so handy to have her be here where I live — no travel involved. And she is so careful to not push me to overdue it in therapy —no soreness from overdoing. I recommend her highly."
